

Hull City Council is working in partnership with the Dollywood Foundation

You also need to talk about what they need to do if someone isn't being nice to them or they see someone else being horrible to someone.

At school they should tell their teacher if this is the case. Some schools have different ways of ascertaining this. Children could, for example, be asked how they are feeling using emojis.

In this hilarious story about outwitting a bully, it turns out that someone small can be more powerful than someone big! A hilariously quirky tale from Alex Latimer, filled with visual puns, wordplay, and an entertaining and unique message about working together.

Talk to your child about how important it is to be friendly and kind to others.

There are other books about bullying that might be helpful such as Walk Tall by Cher Louise Jones or Kindness is my Superpower by Alicia Ortego

